To Stockholders of Farmers and Planters Warehouse Company

Enterprising promoters are engaged in an effort to secure control of the stock of your company at less than its value. Don't let them force you into sacrificing it. If it was not good they would not want it; and, if they are successful, it will be detrimental to the best interests of the tobacco growers and people of this community. Have called meeting of Board of Directors for next Monday to take action to safeguard the interests of all stockholders.
J. N. KEOH, President.

Painful Accident

G. V. Cracraft of Covington, fireman on a C. & O. freight engine, met with a painful accident this morning about 2 o'clock. He was standing on the steps attached to the water tank looking into the fire box on the engine, and in passing over the viaduct at the foot of Market street his leg came in contact with a bridge railing and broke his knee cap. He was taken to the St. Charles Hotel where he was attended by Dr. A. O. Taylor, company surgeon.

Mrs. E. C. Phister, one of our brilliant minds and courtly ladies, had a few friends drop in informally for an hour the other day to greet Miss Carrie Hays, lately returned from Rome and her cousin, Miss Macfarlane, who spent some time abroad, also was present. Miss Hays charmingly recounted an audience with the Pope. Mrs. Foster Barbour and Miss Harriet Johnson collaborated on Miss Kittle Chestnut. Mrs. Barbour's paper was admirably prepared and highly instructive, while Miss Johnson gave personal snapshots of this greatly gifted woman; by the way, Miss Johnson is herself a most versatile and charming girl and is making good with Miss Chestnut. Miss Macfarlane was called upon for a conversation along lines of her experience and regaled the company with tales of life amid the people with whom she has worked. Miss Phister was the presiding genius of it all and served and welcomed them with her intuitive form of culture and aristocracy.

Dr. Page Died From Apoplexy

The request over the body of Dr. C. W. Page, the negro veterinary surgeon, who was found dead in his room at Lexington, this jury returned a verdict that death was due to apoplexy.

Some mystery surrounded the death of Dr. Page, it being believed possible that he had been chloroformed or given poison, but an autopsy was held, disproving the report.

Page was a Maysville man and stood high in his profession.

WHOO LA! AND HA! HA!

Maysville Shuts Out Paris, 4 to 0, and Didn't Give Opponents a Look-in

We Want That Blue Grass Rag Called the Pennant

Paris, Ky., July 19th.—The Paris club was a easy victim to the Rivermen this afternoon when the latter took the game at White Park by the score of 4 to 0. Applegate pitched for the home team and pitched a first-class game, but the team lost through their utter inability to hit Vance. They made only three hits in the entire game to seven for their opponents, and their three hits were scattered through the game, Kuhlman getting one in the second, Hauser one in the sixth and Chapman one in the ninth. This statement is all that is necessary to account for the loss of the game, as no club can win without hitting the ball if the other club hits.

The Paris Team is in a crippled condition. Hicks has been out of the game with a bad finger since the game at Lexington Sunday, and Goodman has been catching. He plays a good game behind the bat, but it leaves a weak spot in right field.

The management of the club announces that they will have an entirely new battery in the game tomorrow, when Maysville will again be the attraction.

The score:

Bitten By a Snake

Mrs. Eli Coburn, residing three miles East of this city, on the Mt. Carmel pike, while working in her garden yesterday was bitten on the ankle by a big black snake. In a very short time the limb became swollen to double its ordinary size and a physician had to be summoned. She is reported better this morning.

Mt. Olivet Advance.

It begins to look like we hit the nail on the head when we said the A. T. Co. was interested in the purchase of the loose leaf warehouses at Maysville, Lexington and one or two other points.

Messrs. Charles Hopper of Maysville, and Thomas Gray, the well known buyer for the American Tobacco Company, rode into Mt. Olivet Tuesday evening in a big auto and left after supper the same night. It is reported that they are buying out the stockholders in loose leaf warehouses.

The next thing you hear the A. T. Co. will be buying the stock from the farmers in the Burley Tobacco Company, after the final distribution is made.

CARLISLE, PA., July 17th.—Theodore Steigleman, 55 years old, and the father of 12 children, started fishing along the Conodoguinet last evening.

His burned body was found near a wire fence, with every indication of his having been struck by lightning.

Steigleman evidently had climbed the fence when holding a steel fishing rod, which attracted a current of electricity.

H. E. Queen Dies at Southgate, Ky., at Age of 78

Henry E. Queen, one of the oldest and most prominent employees of the C. & O., died near Newport Tuesday. He was 78 years of age, and was a frequent visitor at Dover.

He was a warm personal friend of the late Senator John G. Carlisle. For the past several years he was on the retired list of the C. & O.

WOMEN TAKE NOTICE!

A man cannot understand the torture and suffering many women endure uncomplainingly. If the majority of men suffered as much pain and endured with patience the weakening sicknesses that most women do, they would ask for immediate sympathy and look for a quick cure.

Many women have been saved from a life of misery and suffering by turning to the right remedy—Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription—a remedy which is safe to take because containing no narcotics, alcohol or injurious ingredients. It is an alternative extract of roots, made with pure glycerin, and first given to the public by that famous specialist in the diseases of women—Dr. R. V. Pierce, of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute of Buffalo, N. Y.

Mrs. Hessemer.

Mrs. LIZZIE M. HESSEMER, of Lincoln, Neb., 529 "C" St., says: "I send a testimonial with much pleasure so that some suffering woman may know the true worth of your remedies. I was a most sufferer from female troubles but after taking one bottle of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, which a friend advised me to take, I found myself very much improved. After taking three more bottles, and using two boxes of Dr. Pierce's Lozenges, I found myself on the road to recovery. I was in poor health for five years but now I am cured."

"I hope all women suffering from female weakness will give Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription a fair trial."

Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Sugar-coated, tiny granules.

WAR ON RATS

Extended Across Continent Under Orders of Public Health Service

WASHINGTON, July 18th.—The general campaign of extermination against plague-carrying rats was extended across the continent under orders of the public health and marine hospital service.

Instructions were sent to all the forty odd quarantine stations on both the Atlantic and Pacific coasts as follows:

"You are directed to fumigate throughout for the destruction of rats, all vessels arriving from ports in South America, including the river ports thereof, and in the West Indies."

The order prescribed conditions under which perishable cargoes might be removed from vessels by lightering, while holding the vessel for thorough fumigation.

This order is expected to effectually prevent any possible importation of the disease.

BREEZY LETTER FROM LITTLE OLD NEW YORK

"Rodney" Gives Illuminating Facts of the Long Ago--Why Tim Woodruff Fell From the Taft Band Wagon, Etc.

New York, July 16th, 1912.

Editor Public Ledger: Away back yander in Maysville, whence the memory of man runneth not to the contrary, when the political volcanoes, represented by the candidates for councilmen of the respective wards, ranging from the first to the "Bloody Sixth," belched forth their sulphurous smoke, we were wont to glidly repeat that overworked and homesely phrase, "When the smoke of battle" is dispelled we shall see the true inwardness of things in general, et cet, and then some.

But it appears to me that if my recollection serves me one half as well as I have paid for it, that we didn't see much clearer after the battle than we did before it commenced, and many of us wasted several of the ensuing weeks in vain conjectures as to "what hit us" any way.

Besides, the "smoke of battle" wasn't the only thing that dissipated on such occasions. Oh, no! Not by any means. There were others.

It usually took the Campaign Manager of the First Ward twenty-one consecutive astronomical days to come out of quarantine, and the Political Advisory Board of Chester were generally confined somewhat longer, in order to prevent contagion, and give the disilluminated a chance to catch up with the bass drum in the procession.

However, it was universally and invariably the proper thing to say after each of Maysville's political cataclysms:

"Jenny, my own true love I one—Wait till the clouds roll by."

I've often admired Jane's patience—in the face of the returns.

Anyhow, Maysville having set the rest of the world the example, as she usually does, and advised it to investigate both the cause and effect only, "After the smoke of battle rolled away," etc, now, "Everbody's doing it," and here in New York such funny things are being revealed that I often take myself to one side and say: "My boy, this is no place for a minister's son, hence, duck!"

Speculation was rife, not only among the New York delegates to the Chicago convention, but in the city of Brooklyn, and the State at large, as to why the Hon. Timothy L. Woodruff, ex-Republican Lieutenant Governor of the Empire State, and an open, notorious and avowed Taft delegate, saw fit to bolt Mr. Taft in favor of the rametaneous Bull Moose of Oyster Bay?

True, every friend and admirer of the would-be Boss from Brooklyn were fully cognizant that the Hon. Timothy has the playful habit of changing his political mind at least once in every 24 hours, but they could not quite figure out his gymnastical flip at the Chicago convention especially in view of the fact that it certainly could not be due, to any deep rooted affection for the Colonel, who has heretofore usually relieved the sciatias in his right hip by kicking the bosom of Tim Woodruff's trousers on every available occasion. They were also fully apprised of the fact that the Hon. Tim and Comptroller Prongergerst had between them such bitter political animosities that such a thing as sliding on each others cellar doors was not to be conceived.

HERE AT HOME

MAYSVILLE CITIZENS GLADLY TESTIFY AND CONFIDENTLY RECOMMEND DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS

It is testimony like the following that has placed Doan's Kidney Pills so far above competitors. When people right here at home raise their voice in praise there is no room left for doubt. Read the public statement of a Maysville citizen:

Mrs. Dora Melford, Maysville, Ky., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills did me a lot of good and I am glad to tell about it. I had been feeling poorly for some time, before I knew that my kidneys were at fault. I was nervous and dizzy and my back and head ached. I rested poorly and mornings I was all tired out. I read in a local paper how a neighbor had been cured of kidney trouble by Doan's Kidney Pills. I used them, and before long I was entirely better. I was able to sleep well and they improved my health."

sidered as the proper caper, even for sq. much as 30 seconds.

The Bull Moose and Prongergerst both tried to see which could land first on Tim's rear with the toe of their boots when they kicked him out of the state convention this spring, and up to the time Governor Woodruff arrived in Chicago as a howling delegate for President Taft, he had been accustomed to lay awake nights trying to figure out if there was any body, or any thing within the range of human conception that he hated any worse than he hated the Progressive Alee Americanus, with the conspicuous teeth.

Now why this change of heart and mind has kept folks guessing—until the "smoke of battle" has rolled away, and lo! and behold the "sigger in the wood pile" comes out with a grin on his map.

Take it from me, and I got the tip from a source which stamps the report with the stubborn face of truth, that these are the real and only reasons for the Hon. Timothy's flip to the Bull Moose.

You must herewith be advised, that the Ex-Lieutenant Governor has a few practical ideas about making substantial additions to the Woodruff exchequer—when he is not engaged in the patriotic duty of serving his beloved native soil; also and likewise for a good and sufficient pro tanto.

With this thrifty end in view the Hon. Timothy is said to have ventured quite largely into real estate speculations in Flatbush, and other suburbs of the God-fearing (?) city of Brooklyn; bought lands, built flats and duplex apartments, mirabile visu, and for all of which he put in circulation highly engraved bits of paper with the name of Timothy L. Woodruff thereto inscribed in order to make them look pleasing to the eye and acceptable to the feelings of the Predatory Rich, who occasionally accommodate for a reasonable pro, but who have an unpleasant way of inviting their fellow citizens to come across when these bits of paper get ripe.

Alas! Alas! and also, Ha! Ha! That's just what happened to Timothy. A whole bale of these little One Day's, on which Tim had scratched his John Henry, and for which he was expected to pay storage to the warehouse that held them, suddenly and in due course, showed signs that they were not only ripe enough to pluck, but were actually growing mellow, and showing signs of the dry rot, and Tim was requested to go down in his jeans and pro duce.

Tim went down in his jeans for the pro, but found only the duce to pay. The Predatory Rich said "nix" to the duce as a legal tender, and called for the stuff that is an equivalent for the little old red bug in Lobsteria, and the fix water with the sparkling eye. Then Timothy groaned in spirit and hove a sub-hi-yi, as deep as woe could dig it, and as long drawn out as a kangaroo's tail.

About this time the Hon. George W. Perkins and the no less Hon. Frank Munsey, were prowling about the jungle of Chicago seeking for an innocent saddle of mutton which they might devour. Then their eyes fell on Timothy coming away from the remnant of a large and juicy schooner of dues, and looking very much like a hopeless case of appendicitis, and they forthwith then and there determined to slip up and throw salt on Tim's tail.

Be it known, if there is one citizen in this good old U. S. A. of ours who has the sauviter in modo developed to a higher degree of perfection than the big noise of the Harvester Trust, it is, it must be, that other friend of the dear people, and promoter of yellow back literature—Frank Munsey.

Both of these Bull Moose acouts were wise and fully on about that bale of negotiable white slips in cold storage with Tim's John Henry smeared down in the right hand corner, and they at once hid Timothy up and submitted the following proposition, couched in the superlative, if diplomatic parlance, thusly:

"Tim, old sport, what's eatin' you any way? You know you r'ely haint got nawthin agin the Bull Moose, an' Bull r'ely haint got nawthin agin you, when you comes right down to cases—now haint that so? You take it from me; that steam roller has just about run out of gasoline, an' the Colonel's band wagon is glittin' ready to pull out. That's just one seat left, an' you kin have it—if you want. Besides, it's about time for you to change your mind anyhow, according to your usual schedule. See here, Tim; me and Frank always did like you in a sneaky sort of a way—that's straight, an' we are willin' to help a friend out of a tight hole any old time. Come over to the Bull Moose, an' fetch along your fluency with your delegation, an' we'll make you a present of that bale of I O U's as a token of our esteem, to stuff a mattress with. Now what'd ya say?

Nobody heard what Tim said—but—Awful warm weather when it gets real hot, ain't it?

The clearance of the political skies has also thrown a ray of illuminating licorice light upon the Mrs. W. A. Davis episode in the gallery of the Republican Convention Hall, when, as she says, she was suddenly and testotally "inspired (?) to unfurl a large and beautiful lithograph of "Theodore, whom we adore," and stamped the demonstrative books from Governor Hadley, to her favorite Bull.

The fact that Mrs. Davis was a little cheesy in the boat that she hailed from Paducah, Ky., while it might lend more or less piquancy to the sordid aftermath of that "inspired" occasion, still, it need not make Maysvillians turn green with envy at Paducah's possession of this modern Joan of Arc, especially when it leaks out that the "inspiration" which came to Madam D. was happily pre-arranged, staged and liberally paid for in the current coin of the Republic by one Manchester—a tool of Perkins and the McCormicks, a gentleman skilled in all that makes for the spectacular, and who has since been rewarded with a lucrative job with the Harvester Trust for his very diverting Coup de Maître. The consideration of Mrs. Davis for her part of the circus is said to have been sufficient to keep the good lady in a supply of the same brand of "inspiration" for an indefinite period—provided she doesn't over indulge.

Now if anybody asks you who told you all these "reactionary" lies, just tell 'em I'm the guy that "put SIM in Cincinnati," and let it go at that, but advise them that they had better not offer odds that every bit of this foregoing is not facts with the protected wool on the outside.

Aside from politics, New York gossip reveals in the lackadaisical discussion of high ball marriages and garbage can divorce suits, that Tim does appear abnormal when we take the fact into sober consideration—that is to say, those of us who are occasionally unsoused, and do once in a while focus the rays of our thinker on the social problems of the day—that the boy-men and girl-women here, having reached their majority at about 18 years of age, take off their roller skates, grab a quart bottle of Hunter's rye and a syphon by the neck, jump into a 40 horse-power mankiller at 12 o'clock at night, get married right off the reel, and, begin to discuss the feasibility of a divorce the next morning, when the combination of rye and seizer reacts and ice water is the only thing that makes life worth while.

Not strange at all, when one sees female octogenarians and female valentinarians playing the role of "affinites" on the roof gardens, the first wearin' adolescent corsets, which force their stomachs six or eight inches above the waist line like pouter pigeons, and the last, who have no stomachs at all, and who sustain a semblance of life only by their doctor's conivance, buttermilk tablets and the grace of the Devil.

Not a bit surprising, when vice and folly rush together in a "Bunny Hug," and, pari passu, dance the "Turkey Trot" and "Nigger Wiggle," sans puer et sans reproche.

Paris used to wear the cap and bells, but New York sports 'em now. Nevertheless, one sees, hears and reads quite a good deal of tommyrot and silly pastoral about "getting in touch with nature" these days when the mercury is boiling at 95° in the shade, despite the fact that Nature, being a discreet and self-respecting matron, invariably yells "Murder!" and hikes out when the average New Yorker tries to "get next." They know so much about nature—I don't think.

Perhaps they will learn more when Ella Spieler Woodstock publishes her charming and erudite busholic entitled "The Peckaniffian Peculiarities of a Postiferous Woodpecker."

Beware of Ointments For Catarrh That Contain Mercury.
as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is tenfold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, O., by F. J. Cheney & Co.
Testimonials free. Sold by Druggists. Price 75¢ per bottle.

ATTENTION, MEN!

Let McNamara make your Spring Suit. I represent E. W. Price & Co. of Chicago, the strongest line of made-to-measure clothes in the world at popular prices. They specialize on suits made as you want them from $15 to $25. Others must ask $30 to $40 for the same. This is the only house in the United States strong enough financially to control its own patterns, thus assuring you against being uniformed. Aside from the staples, no two patterns alike. Men, this line is a repeater. Remember, we dry clean; others try.

Colonel Ben Lauth of Ripley, accompanied by F. M. Woods and Fred Bailey, were Maysville visitors yesterday and called at THE LEDGER office. Mr. Lauth is really a Kentuckian as he was reared and spent many years of his life on classic Beasley Creek and the "Beautiful Ohio," just above South Ripley. He also married a Kentucky girl, now passed away. He cast longing eyes at Maysville and it wouldn't be a bad idea for him to locate here, seeing that Ripley has about dried up with the local option rot.

Caldwell College, Danville

President John C. Acheson of Caldwell College, Danville, Ky., has been here for a day or so in the interest of this noted Kentucky school for girls. Under President Acheson the College is making rapid strides towards occupying a position rivaling the larger female schools of the South and East. The advantages at Caldwell are just as exalted and advanced as any in the land, while the faculty and environments compare well with any of the celebrated educational institutions in the country. Many pupils are enrolling from the county with Caldwell for the coming term.

SQUARE TUBING
Price $
Do you see how the square cross-rod at top of head and foot beautify this bed? Imagine this design with round tubing in those positions. Would not the result be "ordinary" and monotonous?
It is just such details of clever and artistic designing that have made our steel bed so popular. And the very large corner posts with brass caps all combine to make this an unusually artistic bed.
Moreover this bed is as good as it looks. Because it is made of drawn steel tubing, very light in weight—extremely strong.
A child can move this bed with the greatest ease. Come in and see this bed. Then you will realize how good it is.
